Cooking Definitions

These are from a file that I got on March 22, 2000.

Calorie: Basic measure of the amount of rationalization offered by the average individual prior to taking a second helping of a particular food.

Microwave Oven: Space-age kitchen appliance that uses the principle of radar to locate and immediately destroy any food placed within the cooking compartment.

Oven: Compact home incinerator used for disposing of bulky pieces of meat and poultry.

Porridge: Thick oatmeal rarely found on American tables since children were granted the right to sue their parents. The name is an amalgamation of the words "Putrid," "hORRId," and "sluDGE."

Preheat: To turn on the heat in an oven for a period of time before cooking a dish, so that the fingers may be burned when the food is put in, as well as when it is removed.

Recipe: A series of step-by-step instructions for preparing ingredients you forgot to buy, in utensils you don't own, to make a dish the dog won't eat.

Tongue: A variety of meat, rarely served because it clearly crosses the line between a cut of beef and a piece of dead cow.

Yogurt: Semi-solid dairy product made from partially evaporated and fermented milk. Yogurt is one of only three foods that taste exactly the same as they sound. The other two are goulash and squid.

Daffynitions

These are from a file that I received on August 1, 1997.

Late 1990's Jargon

You can't be cool if you're using outdated lingo. Here's the latest from the corporate and Silicon Valley jungles:

Batmobiling: putting up emotional shields from the retracting armor that covers the Batmobile, as in "She started talking marriage and he started batmobiling".

Beepilepsy: afflicts those with vibrating pagers characterized by sudden spasms, goofy facial expressions and loss of speech.

Betamaxed: when a technology is overtaken in the market by inferior but better marketed competition, as in "Microsoft betamaxed Apple right out of the market".

Blowing your buffer: losing your train of thought.

Cobweb: a WWW site that never changes.

Elvis year: the peak year of popularity, as in "1993 was Barney the dinosaur's Elvis year".

Generica: fast food joints, strip malls, sub-divisions, as in "we were so lost in generica that I couldn't remember what city it was".

Going postal: totally stressed out and losing it, like postal employees who go on shooting rampages.

High dome: egghead, scientist, PhD.

Irritainment: annoying but you can't stop watching i.e; the O.J. Simpson trial.

Meatspace: the physical world (as opposed to the virtual) also “carbon community”.

Percussive maintenance: the fine art of whacking a device to get it working.

Prairie dogging: in companies where everyone has a cubicle, something happens, and everyone pops up to look.

Siliwood: the coming convergence of movies, interactive TV and computers; also “hollywired”.

Square headed girlfriend/boyfriend: computer.

Treeware: manuals and documentation.

Umfriend: sexual relationship, as in “this is Dale, my...um...friend”.

World wide wait: World Wide Web waiting time...

Yuppie food coupons: twenty-dollar bills from an ATM.

… Walked into a Bar Jokes

From a file received December 28, 2011.

A guy goes into a nice restaurant bar wearing a shirt open at the collar and is met by a bouncer who tells him he must wear a necktie to gain admission. So, the guy goes out to his car and he looks around for a necktie and discovers that he just doesn't have one. He sees a set of jumper cables in his trunk. In desperation he ties these around his neck, manages to fashion a fairly acceptable looking knot and lets the ends dangle free. He goes back to the restaurant and the bouncer carefully looks him over for a few minutes and then says, "Well, OK, I guess you can come in — just don't start anything."

A mushroom walks into a bar and starts hitting on this woman. She, of course, turns him down. Not willing, to give up, he pleads with her. "C'mon lady, I'm a fun guy."

A horse walks into a bar and the bartender says, "Hey, buddy, why the long face?"

Two strings walk up to a bar. The first string walks in and orders and the bartender throws him out and yells "I don't serve strings in this bar!" The other string roughs himself up on the street and curls up and orders. The bartender shouts, "Hey, didn't you hear what I told your buddy?" String says "Yeah." Bartender says, "Aren't you a string?" String says, "No, I'm a frayed knot."

A grasshopper walks into a bar, and the bartender says "Hey! We have a drink named after you!" The grasshopper replies "Really? You have a drink named Steve?"

A baby seal walks into a bar and the bartender says, "What'll ya have?" The seal says, "Anything but a Canadian Club."

A skeleton walks into a bar and says, "I'd like a beer and a mop."

A man walked into a bar and sat down next to a man with a dog at his feet. "Does your dog bite?" he asked. "No." A few minutes later the dog took a huge chunk out of the man's leg. "I thought you said your dog doesn't bite!" he said indignantly. The other guy replied, "That's not my dog."

A neutron walks into a bar. "I'd like a beer" he says. The bartender promptly serves up a beer. "How much will that be?" asks the neutron. "For you?" replies the bartender, "no charge."

Descartes walks into a bar, and the bartender asks "Would you like a beer?" Descartes replies "I think not" and POOF! he vanishes.

A three-legged dog walks into a bar and says, "I'm looking for the man who shot my paw."

A hamburger walks into a bar, and the bartenders says, "I'm sorry, but we don't serve food here."

A termite walks into a bar and says, "Is the bar tender here?"

A snake slithers into a bar and the bartender says, "I'm sorry but I can't serve you." "Why not?" asks the snake. The bartender says, "Because you can't hold your liquor."

A baby seal walks into a club. What a tragedy.

A guy walks into a bar. "OUCH!" he said.

Two peanuts walked into a bar, and one was a-salted.

Two vampires walked into a bar and called for the bartender. "I'll have a glass of blood," said one. "I'll have a glass of plasma", said the other. "Okay," replied the bartender, "that'll be one blood and one blood lite."

Two hydrogen atoms walk into a bar. One says, "I think I've lost an electron." The other says "Are you sure?" The first says, "Yes, I'm positive."

Two cartons of yogurt walk into a bar. The bartender, a tub of cottage cheese, says to them, "We don't serve your kind in here." One of the yogurt cartons says back to him, "Why not? We're cultured individuals."

A man walked into a bar, sat down, and ordered a beer. As he sipped the beer, he heard a soothing voice say "nice tie!" Looking around he noticed that the bar was empty except for himself and the bartender at the end of the bar. A few sips later the voice said "beautiful shirt." At this, the man called the bartender over.

"Hey, I must be losing my mind," he told the bartender. "I keep hearing these voices saying nice things, and there's not a soul in here other than us."

"It's the peanuts," answered the bartender.

"Say what?"

"You heard me," said the barkeep. "It's the peanuts - they're complimentary."

Long Jokes

From a file received December 14, 2011.

After Quasimodo's death, the bishop of the Cathedral of Notre Dame sent word through the streets of Paris that a new bell ringer was needed. The bishop decided that he would conduct the interviews personally and went up into the belfry to begin the screening process. After observing several applicants demonstrate their skills, he had decided to call it a day.

Just then, an armless man approached him and announced that he was there to apply for the bell ringer's job. The bishop was incredulous. 'You have no arms!'

'No matter,' said the man. 'Observe!' And he began striking the bells with his face, producing a beautiful melody on the carillon.

The bishop listened in astonishment; convinced he had finally found a replacement for Quasimodo. But suddenly, as he rushed forward to strike the bell, the armless man tripped and plunged headlong out of the belfry window to his death in the street below.

The stunned bishop rushed down two hundred and ninety-five church steps, when he reached the street, a crowd had gathered around the fallen figure, drawn by the beautiful music they had heard only moment before.

As they silently parted to let the bishop through, one of them asked,

'Bishop, who was this man?'

'I don't know his name,' the bishop sadly replied, BUT HIS FACE RINGS A BELL!'

WAIT ! WAIT ! There's more...

The following day, despite the sadness that weighed heavily on his heart due to the unfortunate death of the armless campanologist, the bishop continued his interviews for the bell ringer of Notre Dame.

The first man to approach him said, 'Your Excellency, I am the brother of the poor armless wretch that fell to his death from this very belfry yesterday. I pray that you honor his life by allowing me to replace him in this duty.'

The bishop agreed to give the man an audition, and, as the armless man's brother stooped to pick up a mallet to strike the first bell, he groaned, clutched at his chest, twirled around, and died on the spot.

Two monks, hearing the bishop's cries of grief at this second tragedy, rushed up the stairs to his side.

'What has happened? Who is this man?' the first monk asked breathlessly.

'I don't know his name,' sighed the distraught bishop, 'but... HE'S A DEAD RINGER FOR HIS BROTHER!'

It was a doctor's regular habit to stop off at a bar for a hazelnut daiquiri on his way home and, aware of his habit, the bartender would always have the drink waiting for him at precisely 5:18 PM. One afternoon as the end of the work-day neared the bartender was dismayed to find he was out of hazelnut extract but, thinking quickly, he threw together a daiquiri made with hickory nuts and set it on the bar. The doctor came in at his regular time, took one sip of the drink, then exclaimed: "This isn't a hazelnut daiquiri", to which the bartender replied, "No, I'm sorry, it's a hickory daiquiri, doc."

A hungry lion was roaming through the jungle looking for something to eat when he came across two men; one was sitting under a tree reading a book while the other was typing away on his typewriter. The lion quickly pounced on the man reading the book and devoured him, proving even the king of the jungle knows that readers digest and writers cramp. [Never mind that lions live on savannas, not jungles.]

A Banker parks his brand-new Porsche in front of the office to show it off to his colleagues. As he's getting out of the car, a lorry comes speeding along too close to the curb and takes off the door before zooming off.

More than a little distraught, the Banker grabs his mobile and calls the police. Five minutes later, the police arrive. Before the policeman has a chance to ask any questions, the man starts screaming hysterically: 'My Porsche, my beautiful silver Porsche is ruined. No matter how long it's at the panel beaters it'll simply never be the same again!' After the man finally finishes his rant, the policeman shakes his head in disgust.

'I can't believe how materialistic you bloody Bankers are,' he says. 'You lot are so focused on your possessions that you don't notice anything else in your life.'

'How can you say such a thing at a time like this?' sobs the Porsche owner.

The policeman replies, 'Didn't you realize that your arm was torn off when the truck hit you?' The Banker looks down in horror.

'FING HELL!' he screams. 'Where's my Rolex?'

Old Folks Who Never Die

From a file "The Canonical List of Old Folks" supplied initially by Tim Nelson January 15, 1996, then with additions by me on December 20, 1996.

INTRODUCTION

We all know that no one really dies, they just have something happen to them in a rather final manner.

To find out what will happen to you in a few years, read on.

Thanks to Mark Israel for starting this list, and especially for those of you who continue to add to it.

And, please don't complain that some are really stupid. I know they are.

This list is posted the first Tuesday of each month into rec.humor.

PS: If you have any more jokes to add to this list, please send them to me.

ON DEEP THOUGHTS: A day without sunshine is like night.

ON PARADOX AND RETURN POLICIES: There is a CD out entitled "The Worst of Jefferson Airplane". If you buy this, take it home, play it, and enjoy it, should you take it back and demand a refund?

ON HIGHER EDUCATION: College is a fountain of knowledge … and the students are there to drink.

ON MATHEMATICAL TRANSFORMS: A polar bear is a rectangular bear after a coordinate transform.

ON YOUTH: "Some people say that I must be a horrible person, but that's not true. I have the heart of a young boy -- in a jar on my desk." -- Stephen King, 3/8/90

ON PROBLEM SOLVING: When the only tool you own is a hammer, every problem begins to resemble a nail. -- Abraham Maslow

ON MATERIALISM: He who dies with the most toys, is, nonetheless, still dead.

ON RELIGIOUS PRACTICES: Photons have mass? I didn't know they were catholic!

ON INFINITY: If you had everything, where would you keep it?

ON ECONOMICS: The cost of living hasn't affected its popularity.

ON PUBLISHING OR PERISHING: I am returning this otherwise good typing paper to you because someone has printed gibberish all over it and put your name at the top. -- English Professor, Ohio University

ON REVISIONIST HISTORY: What was sliced bread the greatest thing since?

ON DATING: When aiming for the common denominator, be prepared for the occasional division by zero.

ON LAMENTATION: Of all the things I've lost, I miss my mind the most.

ON POETIC LOVE: When you're swimmin' in the creek and an eel bites your cheek, that's a moray! -- Fabulous Furry Freak Brothers

ON MODERNISM:

Q: How many surrealists does it take to screw in a lightbulb?

A: Two. One to hold the giraffe and the other to fill the bathtub with brightly colored machine tools.

ON MATERIAL SCIENCE: Character density: The number of very weird people in the office.

ON EXTINCTION: Save the whales. Collect the whole set.

ON LITERATURE: This is not a novel to be tossed aside lightly. It should be thrown with great force. -- Dorothy Parker

ON HUMILITY: To err is human, to moo bovine.

ON EXPLANATION OF THE END: "... one of the main causes of the fall of the Roman Empire was that, lacking zero, they had no way to indicate successful termination of their C programs." -- Robert Firth

ON PROPHECY: The meek shall inherit the earth -- they are too weak to refuse.

ON EXCUSES: I can't complain, but sometimes I still do. -- Joe Walsh

ON NUMBERS: Grabel's Law: 2 is not equal to 3 -- not even for very large values of 2.

ON WORLD POLITICS: Diplomacy is the art of saying "nice doggy" until you can find a rock.

ON DRUGS AND DEVELOPMENT: There are two major products to come out of Berkeley: LSD and UNIX. We don't believe this to be a coincidence.

Ten Puns

These are from a file that I received February 17, 2002.

1. Two vultures board an airplane, each carrying two dead raccoons. The stewardess looks at them and says, "I'm sorry, gentlemen, only one carrion allowed per passenger."

2. Two boll weevils grew up in South Carolina. One went to Hollywood and became a famous actor. The other stayed behind in the cotton fields and never amounted to much. The second one, naturally, became known as the lesser of two weevils.

3. Two Eskimos sitting in a kayak were chilly, but when they lit a fire in the craft, it sank, proving once again that you can't have your kayak and heat it, too.

4. A three-legged dog walks into a saloon in the Old West. He slides up to the bar and announces: "I'm looking for the man who shot my paw."

5. Did you hear about the Buddhist who refused Novocain during a root canal? He wanted to transcend dental medication.

6. A group of chess enthusiasts checked into a hotel and were standing in the lobby discussing their recent tournament victories. After about an hour, the manager came out of the office and asked them to disperse. "But why?" they asked, as they moved off. "Because," he said, "I can't stand chess nuts boasting in an open foyer."

7. A woman has twins and gives them up for adoption. One of them goes to a family in Egypt and is named "Ahmal." The other goes to a family in Spain; they name him "Juan." Years later, Juan sends a picture of himself to his birth mother. Upon receiving the picture, she tells her husband that she wishes she also had a picture of Ahmal. Her husband responds, "They're twins! If you've seen Juan, you've seen Ahmal."

8. These friars were behind on their belfry payments, so they opened up a small florist shop to raise funds. Since everyone liked to buy flowers from the men of God, a rival florist across town thought the competition was unfair. He asked the good fathers to close down, but they would not. He went back and begged the friars to close. They ignored him. So, the rival florist hired Hugh MacTaggart, the roughest and most vicious thug in town to "persuade" them to close. Hugh beat up the friars and trashed their store, saying he'd be back if they didn't close up shop. Terrified, they did so, thereby proving that Hugh, and only Hugh, can prevent florist friars.

9. Mahatma Gandhi, as you know, walked barefoot most of the time, which produced an impressive set of calluses on his feet. He also ate very little, which made him rather frail and with his odd diet, he suffered from bad breath. This made him what? A super calloused fragile mystic hexed by halitosis.

10. And finally, there was the person who sent ten different puns to friends, with the hope that at least one of the puns would make them laugh. Unfortunately, no pun in ten did.

Quotes on the Nature of the Universe

Douglas Adams: "There is a theory which states that if ever anybody discovers exactly what the Universe is for and why it is here, it will instantly disappear and be replaced by something even more bizarre and inexplicable. There is another theory which states that this has already happened."

Douglas Adams: "In the beginning the Universe was created. This has made a lot of people very angry and been widely regarded as a bad move."

Woody Allen: "I'm astounded by people who want to 'know' the universe when it's hard enough to find your way around Chinatown."

Ray Bradbury: "We are an impossibility in an impossible universe."

William J. Broad: "The crux... is that the vast majority of the mass of the universe seems to be missing."

Calvin and Hobbes (Bill Watterson): "The surest sign that intelligent life exists elsewhere in the universe is that it has never tried to contact us."

Edward Chilton: "I'm worried that the universe will soon need replacing. It's not holding a charge."

Rich Cook: "Programming today is a race between software engineers striving to build bigger and better idiot-proof programs, and the Universe trying to produce bigger and better idiots. So far, the Universe is winning."

Albert Einstein: "Only two things are infinite, the universe and human stupidity, and I'm not sure about the former."

Max Frisch: "Technology is a way of organizing the universe so that man doesn't have to experience it."

John Andrew Holmes: "It is well to remember that the entire universe, with one trifling exception, is composed of others."

Fred Hoyle: "There is a coherent plan in the universe, though I don't know what it's a plan for."

Christopher Morley: "My theology, briefly, is that the universe was dictated but not signed."

Kilgore Trout (Kurt Vonnegut character): "The universe is a big place, perhaps the biggest."

Edward P. Tryon: "In answer to the question of why it happened, I offer the modest proposal that our Universe is simply one of those things which happen from time to time."

Unknown: "Astronomers say the universe is finite, which is a comforting thought for those people who can't remember where they leave things."

Carl Zwanzig: "Duct tape is like the Force. It has a light side, a dark side, and it holds the universe together."
